FORMER KEBLE HEAD TO McCOMB FIELD POST

The Rev. Hewitt B. Vinnedge, Ph.D., has been appointed priest in charge of the McComb Field, including the Church of the Mediation, McComb, Church of the Redeemer, Magnolia, and Christ Church, Summit.

Bishop Gray made the appointment immediately upon receipt of the news from Dr. Vinnedge that he had resigned the presidency of Keble College, and Dr. Vinnedge as readily accepted the appointment.

In August Dr. Vinnedge moved to Keble College as president of that newly organized private institution.

In November he announced his resignation, giving as his reason complete disagreement with some of the policies and promotional activities being carried on by the business administrator and chairman of the board of trustees, the Rev. Douglas R. MacLaurie, a priest of the Diocese of Chicago.

Before coming to Mississippi in 1947 as a professor in the State College at Hattiesburg, Dr. Vinnedge was professor of New Testament at Nashotah House, the church's seminary in Wisconsin.

He is widely known for his scholarly lectures and writing, and as the book editor for a number of years of The Living Church magazine.

CAPT. CHAS. DAILY SPEAKS TUESDAY AT HOLY NAME MEETING

The February meeting of the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of the Gulf Church was held in the Scout House on Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

Since February is Patriotic Month in the Holy Name Calendar, the Boy Scouts of Troop 217 were invited to be present with their Scoutmasters, Dr. Vinnedge as readily accepted the invitation.

During the regular business session a resolution was offered by Cornelius Ladner on the recent death of charter member Joseph O'Malley was read and adopted. A copy was presented to Aiden Mauffray and the resolution was incorporated into the minutes of the meeting.

Lucien Raymond, Chairman of the Parish Census Committee, briefed the members on the coming census of the parish and asked for workers to help in this important project.

The Boy Scouts acted as a Guard of Honor for Captain Daily and were very happy when after entering the Scout House, he returned and spoke to each boy and shook hands with him. The Boy Scouts opened the meeting with the pledge to the flag.

Speaker of the evening, Captain Charles S. Daily, USN, Commanding Officer of the Gulfport United States Naval Construction Battalion Center spoke with the ease of one used to facing the public and gave members an instructive as well as humorous address. He gave a brief summary of the work of the Gulfport Center and stated that to all practical purposes the Center is a permanent installation of the United States Navy. After talk the Captain graciously answered questions which were asked of him.

The meeting also was honored with the presence of the Right Reverend Monsignor A. J. Grealish, pastor of Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

After the meeting, refreshments were served and the men were given an opportunity of meeting Captain Daily informally.

Members are reminded that Sunday, Feb. 8, 1953 is the regular Holy Communion Sunday and the intention in line with Patriotic Month is the "Welfare of our county and officials in public life." A full attendance is urged and requested.

LIONS CLUB TO SPONSOR MAGIC SHOW

"The appeal of magic and magicians is genuine and universal. It is not confined to any nation or people, and is as powerfully exerted upon 'grown-ups' as children. Children derive pleasure from a magical entertainment that can only be equalled by the glamour of the circus."

So asserted Birch, Master Magician, who will present his mystifying array of tricks and illusion to Bay St. Louis audiences Monday, Feb. 16, at Bay High School Auditorium. There will be two performances—a matinee and a night show at 7:30.

"I have been interested in magic and its manifestations since I entered high school, and I hope I shall always maintain this engrossing study," the distinguished magician declared.

One of the big social events of the year, the ball provokes keen interest, and much speculation, as the names of the court are never disclosed until the night of the ball.

Information from the various committees assured that the ball will be "lovelier" than ever this year.

The decorating committee is keeping secret their plans on the theme of the ball, but have assured everyone they will not be disappointed.

The court has been selected, and regal robes are waiting to be donned. Proceeds from the ball, which will be held Friday, Feb. 13, will be used in the upkeep of the convent.

Perhaps his greatest achievement and most interesting illusion is the Vanishing Pony, in which "Princess," a beautiful miniature horse, is caused to disappear while suspended in mid-air.

Many other thrilling illusions are included in the Birch repertoire, and a clowns' act will be offered by Mr. Max Spay, well known as "Clown King."

'You For Me' Offering

At Star Theatre

Sun., Mon.

The age-old problem of whether a girl should marry for money or for love is given a witty and light-hearted comedy treatment in "You For Me," new M-G-M offering starring Peter Lawford, Jane Greer and Gig Young on the Star Theatre screen Sunday and Monday, Feb. 11-12.

Miss Greer is cast as Katie, pretty young hospital nurse who gets in dutch with her employers when she puts a fresh patient in his place. This patient happens to be millionaire Tony Brown (Lawford), whose yearly endowment keeps the hospital on an even financial keel. It's up to Katie to get back that endowment, even at the risk of losing the love of Dr. Jeff Chadwick (Gig Young). By using every feminine wile in the book plus a bit of horse sense, Katie manages to live up to her pledge to the hospital and to save her floundering romance at the same time—and it's all done to a crescendo of laughs and comedy action.

William Roberts' screen play is full of wit and wisecracks. Don Weis' direction is as fresh as a daisy. And a knowing cast gives a bouncy, strictly modern flavor to the story's characterizations.

Peter Lawford is a natural as the millionaire playboy whom everybody takes for a money-mad rascal, including a discarded wife. He is always debonair and amiable, even when the odds are against him, and walks through his role like a breeze. Jane Greer is completely persuasive as the girl who is hard put to decide between money and love, and Gig Young has an ingratiating role as the young medic, Jeff, who finally wins out in the romantic triangle in what is practically a photo finish.

Scoring in the supporting cast are Paula Corday as Tony's grasping wife, who is not above resorting to a private eye and a frame-up to achieve her ends; Barbara Ruick as Katie's sister, whose impending motherhood gives the plot an unexpected twist; Paul Smith as the latter's ineffectual husband; Tommy Farrell as an ambitious young intern; Elaine Stewart as a doll to

The plot relates the building of the original Denver and Rio Grande line over the continental divide through Royal Gorge in Colorado in competition with the now defunct Canyon City and San Juan line.

Canyon City has the edge through the villainy of Hayden, tough mail-killing construction boss, while General William Jackson Palmer, president of the D & RG, holds O'Brien, his field foreman, in check out of respect for the puny forces of the law.

A series of suspicious accidents and finally a payroll train holdup culminates in an open fight with Hayden's men capturing a train and the line, O'Brien's men recapturing the right-of-way by greater force, a head-on collision and, in the finale, the explosion of a dynamite laden flat car with Hayden aboard, wounded by his own assistant.

Individual Farms Need Conservation Goals, Says Chairman Fitzhugh Lee

The production goals for 1953 point up again the necessity of also having conservation goals for the individual farm, says Fitzhugh Lee, Chairman of the Hancock County PMA Committee. If the farmers are to continue to meet the production needs of this country, more attention must be given to building and maintaining the land.

Lee urges Hancock County farmers planning their crops to meet the production goals to include in those plans the conservation measures essential to keeping their land productive. He explained that conservation is taking on a much broader meaning than it used to have. It is more than merely stopping gullies from getting bigger. It is also checking erosion, strengthening soil structure as a protective means of keeping erosion from starting, and it is building up the soil so that the land will be more productive.

Conservation farming is planning the whole farming operation in such a way that each year will find the farm in better condition than it was before. It means restoring organic matter to soils that have lost this life-giving material. It means controlling runoff and more efficient use of the moisture which falls on the land.

The chairman explains that under the 1953 ACP, assistance is provided to aid farmers in carrying out the most needed conservation on their farms. PMA community committeemen have visited the individual farms in Hancock County and have helped farmers in checking their conservation needs. The purpose of these visits is to give farmers an opportunity to use ACP to help carry out conservation practices which are most essential in meeting production goals now and in the future.
